

Rubén Moreno

Ruben Moreno Zubelzu, is an industrial engineer, boasts over eighteen years of experience in project management and engineering within the nuclear sector. A graduate of the University of the Basque Country in 2003, he began his career at Equipos Nucleares S.A. SME, taking on key roles that ranged from leading project in new nuclear power plants such as Flamanville, Olkiluoto 3, Taishan to participate in international tenders. His work also encompasses highly technical projects, including system installations and the design of innovative solutions for Trillo NPP in Spain.

Since 2012, Ruben is Marketing and Sales Manager in Business Development department where some special projects are managed (like cask, racks, heat exchangers, dismantling and decommissioning). In the big scient market Ruben has also participated in the consecution of important contract such as Vacuum Vessel Assembly and tritium tanks for Iter project, for Max Planck Institute, for European Spallation Source, for Jules Horowitz Reactor.